NEON by Andy Maxx™

Born in the early 1950s as best we can tell. Andy was a child of the sixties. Lenny Bruce, Jack Kerouac are his heroes.

We are not sure if any drugs have affected Andy, but his neon work may reflect past experiences.

He doesn't remember.

Andy loves animals, poetry readings, and vinyl records. He can still be found in the coffee shops and festivals in SoHo. Just look for his beard (now mostly grey), paint speckled Levi's, and his colorful glasses.

Andy's motto is "LIVE, AND LEAVE ME ALONE."

LARRY GROSSMAN

Born in Los Angeles, Larry Grossman began his art career at age fifteen in the mid 1960's airbrushing T-shirts at Hot Rod shows. He then attended CCAC art school in Berkeley (where he later taught). After graduating, Larry returned to L.A. to create art for studios such as Disney (on TRON), Warner Bros., and Dreamworks, producing many memorable logos and posters along the way. He has also created album covers for musicians such as Frank Zappa and T-shirt designs and posters for companies such as IN-N-OUT Burger and Bob's Big Boy.
